Coyhis Publishing, Inc. is a native American owned 8A company that focuses on healing and wellness for all individuals, communities and organizations. Don Coyhis is a member of the Mohican Nation and founded Coyhis Publishing, Inc. in 1996 in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Coyhis Publishing, Inc. is dedicated to the development of culturally relevant and appropriate training and inspirational materials focusing on: prevention, recovery, treatment, intervention, leadership, and community development. All the products in this catalog are based on the natural laws, principles and values taught to us by Elders from various Native communities. These teachings include: the Medicine Wheel, the Cycle of Life, and Native Propheies. In addition, many of the products are designed to support 12 Step programs with culturally relevant concepts.

Many of the products in this catalog, as well as those being developed, have been created in response to requests from the many people, organizations and communities who are working to bring sobriety and wellness into their communities. Therefore, we are always updating and creating new wellbriety materials and tools.

The Native American Women in Prison Program is funded through the profits from Wellbriety jewelry, patches and clothing and provides the training to heal our Native women in prison. Coyhis Publishing, Inc. is currently working with three prisons and is continuously working to form additional partnerships. Each prison forms a circle of 100 women who commit to being a part of ‘Women in Wellbriety’, by participating in four trainings to help prevent women from entering and returning to prison.

We hope that this program will help our Native women in prison, start their healing process before they are released, so that they will never have to leave their children and families and return to prison again.

Give our sisters, mothers, daughters, aunts and grandmothers in prison the support they need!
